Employment and work experience

Location: Tearfund Duration: September 2024 – March 2026 Position: speaker

My work in Tearfund started as a volunteering course for my Silver Duke of Edinburgh, where I worked in the churches department and helped the team run efficiently, while Learning about the amazing work that Tearfund does. It was from there that I developed my crucial communication skills as I engaged in a professional environment where I wrote and later presented a speech to both my school and churches around Essex. Furthermore I was able to gain many separate qualifications surrounding safeguarding, whistleblowing, and bribery awareness.

Clifford Chance Work experience day. Location: Zoom Duration: 8 hours

Through an interest in the legal industry I took an 8 hour work experience with Clifford chance as a way to learn about and hone in skills that would allow me to adapt in a professional environment as well as approaching high stake tasks and completing them efficiently to a high standard. This was an incredible opportunity as I am a very keen learner and having the opportunity to learn was something I could never give up. This event was organised by Young Professionals and is only one of the many of the virtual in person and virtual events that I have been blessed to participate in.

Interests

Politics and the Commercial world have sparked an enormous fire in my heart and there isn't a day that goes by where my understanding of both isn't growing. As a citizen of both the UK and an EU country the economic and political interactions that both powers have is fascinating and ever-evolving especially in a world of Trump politics, as I develop my linguistic skills I hope to become trilingual so I can merge my political and linguistic talents to work in diplomacy and even in MI6 if given the opportunity.

Other skills and achievements

RAFAC NCO: As a Corporal in the Royal Air Force Air Cadets, I am well accustomed to and, indeed, thrive under pressure. During my time I encountered numerous obstacles which I have successfully overcome. These experiences have been instrumental in developing key leadership qualities. Frequently, cadets would challenge the chain of command, necessitating that I articulate my points precisely. This allowed me to effectively lead and, when necessary, respectfully dispute while maintaining a high standard of myself and others.

Jack petchy award: Building a community wherever I am is a distinctive feature of my character, and that is why I was able to win the Jack Petchy and then treat my Peers to a bowling trip with the money won. Although, not an award I was expecting I was very blessed to have the opportunity to treat the very same people that voted for me.

Earniversity- fast track challenge:

This was a huge experience for me, and it taught me a phenomenal amount about the financial world, becoming financial stable is a key goal of mine and through this challenge I have learnt about different forms of investing, entrepreneurship, freelancing, in-person services and why successful people become successful. This has sharpened my mind and my attitude to work as I am now experimenting with different forms of income to find the best way that I can make money work for me. This determination that I have transpires into everything that I set my mind towards and is what has helped me target my abilities to achieve my aspirations; such as becoming head girl.
